An old estates consisting of several thousands of acres of productive soil has been divided into Farms of various sizes to suit the purchaser. A population of some Fifteen Hundred from various parts of the middle States and Now England have settled there the past year, improved the places, and raised excellent crops. The price of the land is at the low soun of from $16 to $20 per acc, the soil is of the heat quality for the production of Wheat, Clower, Clove, Peacches, Orapes and Projections. IT IS CONSIDERED THE BEST PRUIT SOIL IN THE U. JON. The place is perfectly secure from frosts—the destructive enemy of the farmer, raps organing rases and fruit are now growing an can be seen. By examining the place itself, a correct judgment can be formed of the point of the land, which is only soil of rectual emprovement. The result has been that within the past year, some tree hundred houses have been erected, two mils, one steam, for stores, some forty vineyands and Feach orchards, planted, and a large number of other improvements, making it a desirable and active place of business.

By six e'clook Alice, ready for dinner in more senses than one, betook herself to the drawing-room, where she waited patiently for half an hour -reading up sundry parts of Mrs. Bluedeville, which in her rapid flight through that lady's instructive remance she had Inited to person—at seven o'clook she rang the bell, and inquired of the butler whether his master and come in, or whether, it not, any ling definite was known of his whereabouts—the reply was unsatisfactory in the extreme. Master had not resurned; he, Wilkins, could form no idea where he was likely to be, but considered as a general maxim, shooting to be a highly dangerous amisement. Would Mrs. Coverdale obligingly condescend to ring the hell when she wished the din-

a right to do so. During dinner she was silent and dignified on principle; her husband should see that she fen his neglect. But Harry chin't see i one bit, bless ham !—he was very hungry, so for some time kept strictly to business, and he was very happy; 50 when his appetite was appeared, he rattled on about any thing and every thing, and was so pleased and cheor-ful, that Alice felt dignity would be quite out of place, and so had a litthe struggle with her feelings, and then mentally forgave bim.

To prove that she did so, she laid hers If out to entertain and amuse him, and with this view, when the servant had left the routing the treated him to a comic no count of her day's adven-tures, and having talked herself into a great state of communicativeness and sociability, had just resided the base cow opisode, when a slight sound not very unlike the voice of the cow it-self reached her car-Harry had fallen fast asleep !

THE DELICIOUS TONIC especially designed for the use of the Minical Profession and the Family, possesses those intrinsic medicinal properties (Tonic and Diurctic) which belong to an Old and PURE GIN. The business of manufacturing spurious gins, and offering them as beverages, under the titles, "Aromatic,"--" Cordial,"--" Medicated," etc., has become so common, that the public are justly suspicious of nearly everything that is offered under similar forms, and the trade has thus been brought into disrepute It has remained for our house (established in 1778) to supply the pressing popular need, and to inaugurate a new era in the history of the Trade. We trust that our established reputation - founded upon eighty years of experience - abundantly vindicates our claim to public confidence.
